Axis Communications expands UK team Axis adds to team and announces new channel manager

Axis Communications, the global leader in the network video market¹ demonstrates its commitment to the UK surveillance industry as it continues to expand its UK team.

Axis has today announced the appointment of Lisa Smith as channel manager for the UK and Ireland. Lisa has been with the company for over six years and has taken this position to provide maternity cover. She brings a wealth of experience to the role having managed internal sales for the company for three years.

As channel manager, Lisa will be responsible for managing Axis distribution partners in the UK and Ireland and training channel partners on Axis products. Commenting on her promotion Lisa said: "Having worked for Axis for a number of years I have a comprehensive understanding of Axis products and the Channel Partner Programme and I am looking forward to sharing this knowledge with our distribution partners."

Phil Doyle, managing director, added: "As the demand for IP-based surveillance solutions continues to increase we are committed to providing the best support for our channel partners. Lisa not only understands the Axis offering but she also has an in-depth knowledge of the UK channel, making her a valuable resource for our distribution partners."

In addition to Lisa's role, Axis continues to expand its team with the appointment of Beverley Cook as office manager. Beverley joins the company from finance recruitment company, the Premier Group.

Doyle concluded: "We are dedicated to expanding the team to ensure that we are able to meet the increasing demand for network video solutions in the UK and to guarantee that we deliver the consistently high standards that are synonymous with the Axis brand."

Hitchin based, Axis Communications offers a wide range of network video solutions and counts Knowsley Community College, Stafford General Hospital, the Royal Academy of Arts and the University of East Anglia among its client base.
