

Axis appoints new disti

Axis Communications, one of the global leaders in the network video market, has appointed Sentronics as its distribution partner in SA. Sentronics will join Axiz and ADI International to make up Axis' local distribution chain. Roy Alves, country manager of Axis Communications says: "The decision to work with Sentronics is based on its vast knowledge and experience in the video surveillance space." Bernard Senekal, managing director, Sentronics adds, "We are delighted at the prospect of working with Axis as its distribution partner in SA."
