

Bytes SI partners with Axis

Bytes Systems Integration (Bytes SI), integrated and managed information technology business solutions and services specialist, has signed a deal with Axis Communications SA. The deal will see Bytes SI becoming a reseller of Axis' range of security products. Dave Hunter, divisional managing director of Bytes SI's Kronos division says: "The decision to become an Axis solutions partner was made as these global IP network video solutions will enable us to provide top security for the server room or any other high-security area. This further extends our existing offering of true end-to-end IT solutions."
