

AXIS IP VIDEO JUST THE TICKET FOR BUS SECURITY

[Johannesburg, 11 July 2006] - As part of Stockholm Transport's focus on public safety, they have decided to install network cameras in all their buses to increase security of both passengers and staff.

Axis Communications network cameras will be installed in 2500 of Stockholm Transport's (SL's) buses. Axis' partner Visual Defence (VDI) has been awarded the contract for an integrated mobile solution for SL's fleet of buses. The installation is planned to take place in the beginning of next year.

"During the last year Axis has seen an increased interest in network video installations in the transportation sector. We're pleased to see an additional installation for Stockholm Transport: earlier this year we announced an installation in the subway system and at commuter train stations in Stockholm," says Roy Alves, Country Manager for Axis Communications Africa Region.

The Axis network cameras provide high image quality and Power over Ethernet, which result in a cost-efficient installation. Up to 10,000 cameras will be involved: 100 buses will be equipped in Phase I and a further 2400 in Phase II in 2007.
