

Body worn solutions in retail

Sleek body worn cameras for a safer workplace

A rapidly changing retail environment brings new trends, new risks, and greater safety considerations. Designed for the retail workplace, lightweight body worn cameras from Axis help improve safety, deter unwanted behavior, and increase transparency. Ideal for staff in loss prevention, at customer service counters, in stockrooms – or anywhere else you choose.

Retail challenges to solve

Safety and security

Deter criminals and keep staff and property safe.

Loss prevention

Get first person evidence of any situation.

Compliance and the customer experience

Improve ways of working and avoid false claims.

How Axis can help

Deter aggression and support a well-functioning retail environment by equipping your personnel with sleek, low-profile body worn cameras. Whenever it's needed, a single touch triggers forensic-quality audio and video recording, documenting a first-person perspective that increases accountability and a sense of safety. It's also possible to automatically activate all nearby body worn devices to capture quality footage of the incident from multiple angles. Whether you want to mitigate risk, strengthen loss prevention, or improve compliance, body worn solutions can help. And because we always build on an open platform, you can use our body worn devices as part of an Axis end-to-end solution or with your current third-party video management system.
