

Interim Report January–March 2003

Sales affected by cautious market

- Group net sales during the first quarter amounted to SEK 153 M (164).
- Operating profit amounted to SEK 0.6 M (11).
- Continued sales growth in the Video product area; up 18% compared with the year-earlier period.

About Axis. Axis increases the value of network solutions. The company is an innovative market leader in network video and print servers. Axis' products and solutions are focused on applications such as security surveillance, remote monitoring and document management. The products are based on in-house developed chip technology, which is also sold to third parties. Axis was founded in 1984 and is listed on the Stockholmsbörsen (XSSE:AXIS). Axis operates globally with offices in 14 countries and in cooperation with distributors, system integrators and OEM partners in 70 countries. Markets outside Sweden account for more than 95 % of sales. Information about Axis can be found at www.axis.com

Sales

Axis' net sales in the first quarter amounted to SEK 153 M (164). Currency effects during the period impacted net sales negatively in the amount of SEK 18 M. As in the preceding quarter, sales were affected by a weaker U.S. dollar and generally restrained market conditions.

The strong market interest in the Video product area remained unchanged in all geographical regions. Sales of video servers and network cameras increased by 18%, compared with the year-earlier period. Video strengthened its position as the largest Axis product area, accounting for 52% of total sales during the period.

Despite several signs of increased activity early in the year, the period was overshadowed by the uncertain global climate and the weak economy. The conditions created an obvious trend toward greater restraint and postponements in decision-making processes, particularly with large customer projects. This affected both the Video product area as well as customer-specific development within the OEM sector. The continued low level of investments in the IT market contributed to negative sales growth for Print, as well as Scan and Store.

OEM sales accounted for 19% of total sales, compared with 25% during the first quarter of the preceding year.

Operating profit

The Group's operating profit during the first quarter amounted to SEK 0.6 M (11).

The operating margin was 0.4% (6.5). Profit after financial items amounted to SEK 3 M (14). Currency effects did not have any significant impact on operating profit for the period.

As a consequence of lower revenues from customer-specific development work, the gross margin for the period declined to 53.7% (58.7). Operating profit in the quarter was also affected by the implementation of aggressive investments in product development, sales and distribution, resulting in an unchanged level of operating expenses. These activities are in line with Axis' strategy to further strengthen its position in the growing Video product area during the year.

Cash flow and financial position

Cash flow from operating activities during the period amounted to a negative SEK 1 M. Net investments amounted to SEK 4 M. In accordance with recommendation RR15 of the Swedish Financial Accounting Standards Council, SEK 3 M in development costs was capitalized during the period. Axis had SEK 126 M in liquid funds and unutilized credit facilities totaling SEK 130 M. Accordingly, the company's total payment capacity as at March 31, 2003 amounted to SEK 256 M.

Shareholders' equity

The Group's shareholders' equity amounts to SEK 317 M. Changes during the period totaling SEK 4 M were attributable to profit during the quarter. The total number of shares at the close of the period was 68,900,000. Following the exercise of all warrants outstanding, there will be 71,421,300 shares. The Group's equity/assets ratio at March 31, 2003 was 75%.

Business development

Axis has continued to work according to plan to strengthen its positions in the market for network video solutions and print servers. Technological, product and market development work will prioritize the Video product area to secure continued sales growth in keeping with increased market growth and competition. In addition to a number of aggressive investments in sales and distribution, Axis is also intensifying its efforts to establish new partnerships within various customer segments. Cooperation have been started with Proxim, Videor Technical and Anixter, among other companies.

Increased opportunities to sell Axis video solutions to federal authorities in the U.S. have been created following a federal framework agreement that was reached between Axis and the General Services Administration in January. The agreement covers all Axis network video products for security and surveillance applications.

Axis also participated in two large industrial fairs during the period. At the CeBit Fair, the company's products attracted a great deal of attention despite a decline in attendance, compared with previous years, due to the weak business climate. Axis also attracted widespread interest at ISC West, an American security trade show and, for the second time, the Group was awarded a prize for the best digital video product, this time for the AXIS 2130 Network Camera.

Significant events

Ray Mauritsson assumed the position as the new president of Axis AB on February 24, 2003, succeeding Peter Ragnarsson. Ray Mauritsson has held several senior management positions within Axis since 1995.

Prospects for 2003

Global uncertainty factors are expected to impact economic growth in several of Axis' most important markets. This strengthens the earlier appraisal that 2003 might be another year characterized by IT-investment restraint and weak sales growth. Notwithstanding the difficult market conditions, Axis retains its assessment that the Video product area offers substantial, long-term growth potential. During the year Axis intends to strengthen its positions in the Video product area and maintain profitable development.

Accounting principles

The interim report was prepared in accordance with the Swedish Financial Accounting Standards Council's recommendation RR20, Interim Reports. The accounting principles and methods of calculation are the same as those applied in the most recent annual report, with the addition of the Council's published recommendations that came into effect as of January 1, 2003.

The company's segment comprises one operating sector.

Parent Company

The Parent Company's operations are focused primarily on Group-wide administration. The Parent Company has no employees. The operating profit amounted to SEK 6 M. Liquid funds amounted to SEK 62 M. There is no borrowing.

²⁾ During the second quarter of 2001, Axis completed a restructuring that included the sale of its 59 percent holding in Netch Technologies. The tables above show pro forma figures for Q1 and Q2 2001 in which Netch is excluded. Netch, which was previously reported in the EMEA region, is not included in the Group as of Q3, 2001.

This interim report has been reviewed in accordance with the recommendations issued by the FAR. A review is considerably limited in scope compared with an audit. There is nothing to indicate that this interim report does not comply with the requirements of the Securities and Clearing Operations Act and the Accounts Act.
