About Axis. Axis increases the value of network solutions. The company is an innovative market leader in network video and print servers. Axis' products and solutions are focused on applications such as security surveillance, remote monitoring and document management. The products are based on in-house developed chip technology, which is also sold to third parties. Axis was founded in 1984 and is listed on the Stockholmsbörsen (XSSE:AXIS). Axis operates globally with offices in 14 countries and in cooperation with distributors, system integrators and OEM partners in 70 countries. Markets outside Sweden account for more than 95 % of sales. Information about Axis can be found at www.axis.com

Sales

Axis' net sales during the period amounted to SEK 460 M (502), down 8% compared with the same period last year. Sales during the first nine months were affected by a weak USD exchange rate, continued investment restraint and protracted decision processes by customers. Currency effects during the period had a negative impact on net sales in the amount of SEK 57 M.

Despite the cautious market climate, Axis' largest product area, Video, posted continued sales growth in all regions. Total video sales increased by 17% compared with the year-earlier period. In addition, growth measured in local currencies is greater in the U.S. (33%) and European (36%) markets. Accordingly, Axis is further strengthening its position in this strategically important growth area.

Sales during the third quarter totaled SEK 155 M (168). Video accounted for 57% of sales, and showed a growth of 19% compared with the year-earlier period. At the same time, the negative sales trend for Print, Scan and Store persists as a result of the continued weak IT market. Demand in most segments of the IT market declined at the beginning of the period but showed signs of stabilizing toward the end of the period, albeit at a low level.

As a result of a general weakness in the IT market, the volume of customer-specific projects and OEM sales declined compared with the corresponding period in 2002. During the third quarter, OEM sales accounted for 18% of Axis' total sales.

Operating profit

The Group's operating loss amounted to SEK 3 M (profit: 30). The operating margin was negative in the amount of 0.6% (positive: 6.0) and profit after financial items amounted to SEK 2 M (39). Profit after tax amounted to SEK 3 M (31). Currency effects had a positive impact of SEK 3 M on operating profit for the period. The gross margin amounted to 52.5% (57.2). Throughout the period, the gross margin was affected by revenue declines in customer-specific development work and, to an extent, by price declines within certain products and markets.

The operating profit for the third quarter amounted to SEK 1 M (12), an improvement of SEK 5 M compared with the preceding quarter. The gross margin amounted to 51.1% (56.4).

To offset the effects of sluggish business conditions and to adjust costs, Axis is initiating a cost-savings program during the fourth quarter. The goal is to achieve annual savings in the range of SEK 15 M, the effects of which should be fully felt in 2004.

Cash flow and financial position

Cash flow from operating activities amounted to a negative SEK 25 M. Net investments amounted to SEK 15 M, of which SEK 11 M is attributable to capitalized development work. Axis has SEK 89 M in liquid funds and unutilized credit facilities totaling SEK 130 M. Accordingly, the company's total payment capacity at September 30, 2003 amounted to SEK 219 M.

Shareholders' equity

The Group's shareholders' equity amounts to SEK 305 M. Of the changes during the period, SEK 3 M is attributable to results for the period and SEK 10 M to a shareholder dividend. The total number of shares at the close of the period was 68,900,000. After full exercise of the outstanding warrants, the number of shares totals 71,421,300. The Group's equity/assets ratio at September 30, 2003 was 72.3%.

Business development

Axis proceeded to strengthen its position in the Video sector through continuous expansion of its network of resellers and systems integrators. Also during the third quarter, Ingram Micro, one of Axis' largest distribution partners, announced the company's intention to invest more in security products, which further strengthens the image of a growing market potential for digital security solutions.

At the same time, sales efforts were intensified within prioritized customer segments, the results of which were strongly felt in the U.S. and U.K. education sector, among other areas.

In addition, important strategic orders were signed in Japan and China, two markets with major market potential for Video. In Japan, Axis delivered, among others, a large number of network cameras to a new shopping center where the management wanted to improve visitor safety in the facility's parking area. In the Chinese market, an OEM agreement for video servers was signed with YAAN, a leading CCTV manufacturer. The initial order value in both instances was slightly more than SEK 1 M.

During the period, Axis' technology sales secured another volume order in the third-party developer sector. This time the order was from the security company, Rosengren SafePay AB, for developing a card for a cash-management system. The transaction is expected to generate SEK 2 M annually.

At the end of the period, AXIS 205 Network Camera was introduced. The AXIS 205 is a highly compact network camera that simultaneously offers superior image quality at an attractive price. Examples of target groups for the new product are smaller businesses and advanced home users. Consequently, Axis is broadening its market for digital remote monitoring applications.

Prospects for the fourth quarter 2003

The economy shows signs of a possible recovery during 2004, but indications are that restraints in IT investments will persist. Accordingly, Axis is initiating a cost-savings program in the beginning of the fourth quarter to ensure a long-term development that is stable and favorable. The belief in a significant growth potential within the Video business area remains, as does Axis' goal of a positive operating result for 2003 as a whole.
