

How to renew an existing AXIS Store Reporter subscription license to AXIS Store Reporter 2019

The screenshot shows the AXIS Store Reporter web interface. The top navigation bar includes the AXIS logo, a 'Preferred language' dropdown, and links for 'Welcome', 'Change password', and 'Log out'. A left sidebar contains a 'Tools' menu with 'Axis Store Reporter' highlighted. The main content area is titled 'AXIS Store Reporter' and contains a notice about the subscription renewal from 2018 to 2019. Below the notice is a diagram showing the data flow from 'Point of Sale Integration' and 'AXIS People Counter' through 'AXIS Store Data Manager' to 'AXIS Store Reporter'. The interface also displays a list of end-customer company accounts with details for 'AXIS Store Reporter 2019' and 'AXIS Store Reporter 2018'. A red box highlights the 'License Key' input field for the 2019 subscription, with an 'Add channel' button next to it.

AXIS Store Reporter

AXIS Store Reporter (article no. 01147-061) is a subscription service running until December 31st 2018. It will be replaced on November 1st 2018 by AXIS Store Reporter Subscription 2019 (article no. 01704-001). During November and December 2018, both licenses will be valid. Please note that the renewal will not be automatic. You need to contact your distributor and purchase the applicable number of channel licenses.

AXIS Store Reporter is a web-based service that gathers statistics from all applications in AXIS Store Optimization Suite and AXIS Loss Prevention Suite.

Using one interface, you get insights into your store's performance with statistics and graphical representations from different locations and camera units. The data is gathered at fixed intervals. AXIS Store Reporter includes the AXIS Store Data Manager application which, among other things, can notify you if there are problems retrieving data.
